

Lim Yee Fen
Nanyang Technological University

Professor Lim graduated with degrees in Computer Science and in Law with Honours from the University of Sydney, Australia. She is an Associate Professor at the Division of Business Law, Nanyang Business School, NTU. She is also Principal Consultant at Galexia, in Sydney, Australia and is a Research Associate at the Cyberspace Law & Policy Centre, Faculty of Law, UNSW. She has previously held teaching positions at NUS Law School, Sydney University Law School and UNSW Law School. Professor Lim also has considerable experience as an IT professional and was a consultant on numerous strategic database and Internet projects in the 1990s. She is an internationally recognised expert in the areas of Information Technology Law and Intellectual Property Law. She has published over 30 ground-breaking articles in internationally well-respected refereed journals on Internet Law and Technology Law, IP Law, E-commerce Law and Privacy Law in the US, Europe, Singapore, India, Australia and New Zealand. Her seminal book Cyberspace Law: Commentaries and Materials, first published in 2002 by Oxford University Press, is in its second edition with a Foreword by the Honourable Justice Gummow AC QC of the High Court of Australia and includes chapters on IP, privacy and data protection. Professor Lim is a sought after speaker and has spoken at nearly 60 scholarly conferences worldwide, some at prestigious law schools such as Stanford Law School, and her speaking engagements extend beyond the US to include Europe, Asia, Australia and New Zealand.